The Spanish "Civil War"

By Paul Cahill

(REPRINTED FROM THE WORD, JULY 1956)

"The brand on the brow of our generation, and the source of its disruption and decadence", said Pope Pius XII in his 1947 Christmas broadcast to the world, "is the tendency...to insincerity, a lack of honesty; and this not merely as an occasional expedient...No, today it amounts practically to a system. It has been raised practically to a strategy, in which the lie, the garbled word or fact, and trickery, have come to be accepted weapons of offence which some people wield with the skill of professionals...So the suppression of all sense of right and wrong has come to be part and parcel of modern technique in the art of forming public opinion, controlling it and making it serve their political ends."

The worst case of this suppression of the truth and wholesale resort to falsehood is to be seen in the attitude of the world Press towards Spain, and especially in regard to the war, one of the most terrible in history, that began 20 years ago and has been misnamed the Spanish "Civil War." Not only for its total misrepresentation of facts, but also for downright lying, the treatment of that conflict by the Press has never been surpassed. According to this version, which so many people, including numerous Catholics, have been led to believe, "democracy" was overthrown in Spain, mainly with the aid of Nazi and Fascist armies, by an upstart puppet of the Nazis named Franco, who now rules the country as a "Fascist" tyrant. One wonders if Catholics who accept and spread such slanders realise that they are insulting the Popes, for Pius XI and Pius XII have given us quite a different version of the Spanish conflict.

Pope Pius XI in his Encyclical Letter on The Persecution of the Church in Spain said that this had been "set on foot" by "hatred and enmity which the destroyers of all order, religious and civil, banded together in secret societies as in Mexico and Russia, cherish and stir up against the Lord and against His Church." In another Letter he stated that "the conspiracy of silence on the part of a large section of the Press of the world...about the atrocious crimes perpetrated in Russia, in Mexico and in a great part of Spain...is favoured and recommended by various secret forces which for a long time have been working for the overthrow of the Christian social order." (On Atheistic Communism, 1937) And the present Holy Father in his broadcast to Spain on April 16, 1939, after Franco's victory said: "The persistent propaganda and the un-remitting efforts of the enemies of Jesus Christ lead one to believe that they sought to make Spain a supreme example of the powers of destruction at their disposal and which are spread throughout the world...The wise people of Spain...rose decisively in defense of the ideals of Faith and of Christian life...and were able to resist the onslaught of those who...were in reality fighting for atheism."

In attributing the Spanish conflict to "secret forces", "the enemies of Jesus Christ", are the Popes misinformed? Let us consider what some of the best-informed and most honest historians have reported on the subject. Among the most reliable accounts published outside Spain are "The Secret History of the Spanish Revolution" (Beauchesne, Paris) by Count Leon de Poncins, who was in the Allied Intelligence Service during the last war, "Such Is Spain" (Kuhne, Leipzig) by Dr. Dominic Woelfel, and two works in English "The Spanish Arena" (The Catholic Book Club, London) by William Foss and Cecil Geraghty, and "Spain 1923-1948" (Boswell, London) by Arthur Loveday, former Morning Post correspondent in Spain.

"The origins of the Spanish Civil War", writes Dr. Woelfel, "cannot be properly understood without a knowledge of the secret forces at work in Spain. No attention has been paid by the world's Press to the activities of these hidden forces, because that part of the Press best qualified to know the facts happens to be the part most interested in concealing them...The Grand Orient lodges were in constant contact with international Communism and all the principal figures in the Republic were members of the Grand Orient." The authors of "The Spanish Arena" state: "We have shown that Spain was the victim of a vast Communist plot, inspired and controlled by Freemasons, largely Jewish...the link between the Spanish and French Governments during the struggle had been through Masonry: through such Grand Orient lodges as Plus Ultra, La Marseillaise L'Internationale. These lodges organised the supply of arms to the Red Government...How can one account for the continued conspiracy of silence maintained by the British Press, so that these facts must appear to most British readers as startlingly new?" And in his history of modern Spain, Arthur Loveday tells us that: "Freemasonry and a section of Jewry had, with the Comintern, been the principal causes...of the Spanish Revolution."

Gen. Franco led the revolt of the Army in Morocco and later became commander of all the Nationalist forces

Gen. Cabanellas was also one of the original leaders of the Army revolt

THE SPANISH CATHOLIC LEADERS

Calvo Sotelo, leader of the Catholic Party, whose murderer by the Masons led to the outbreak of war

Gen. Emilio Mola, leader of the Army revolt in Northern Spain, was later killed in a plane crash

It seems that the Popes are quite right in ascribing the revolution and persecution that led to the outbreak of war in Spain in 1936 to these "secret forces", but lest there be any doubt about the matter, the Masons have claimed the credit for themselves. In his splendid history Count de Poncins quotes the official Spanish Masonic Review of June 1931 as stating: "The Republic is the perfect embodiment of our doctrines and principles.,It would be impossible to bring about a political revolution more completely Masonic than the Spanish Revolution."

Before recounting the events that led to the war in Spain, we must first appreciate the country's decline in the preceding century. This begins with the invasion of Spain by Napoleon, who introduced Freemasonry and the ideas of the French Revolution into the country. The result was that in the century from the death of Ferdinand VII in 1833 to the exile of Alfonso XIII in 1931 there were 97 governments, over 50 military revolts, 3 Civil Wars, 5 Constitutions and 4 Prime Ministers were murdered. The reason for all this is given in the preamble to the law suppressing Masonry and Communism in Spain, enacted in 1940, which states: "Scarcely any factor among the many which have contributed to the decadence of Spain has had such a pernicious influence thereon...as the secret societies of all kinds and the international forces of a secret nature. Among the former, the leading place is occupied by Masonry...In the civil wars which afflicted Spain during the past century, and in the disturbances which accelerated the fall of the Monarchy...as well as the innumerable State crimes, it is always possible to discover the joint work of Masonry and of the anarchist forces which in turn, receive their impetus from hidden international sources. These grave injuries inflicted on the greatness and well-being of the fatherland became even more acute during the last decade and culminated in the terrible campaign of atheism, materialism and the anti-Spanish movement, the object of which was to render our Spain the satellite and slave of the criminal Soviet tyranny. When the Spanish people rose in arms against that tyranny, Masonry and Communism did not cease their efforts. They supplied arms, gave sympathy and economic help to the oppressors of the fatherland, spread the most atrocious calumnies against the true Spain, and condoned and acquiesced in the crimes committed by the Reds."

In April 1931 King Alfonso XIII went into exile when the Republicans increased their votes in the municipal elections, though the monarchists were still in the majority. But despite this, a provisional revolutionary Socialist Government, dominated by Masons and with Alcala Zamora, a Jew, as President, was established. It immediately proclaimed a Republic and introduced an anti-Catholic Constitution. When the next general elections were held in 1933, it lost power again and was succeeded for the following 3 years by no less than 11 weak governments. In 1934 the Socialists tried to seize power through a revolt in Asturias, which was quickly suppressed by the army under General Franco, its chief-of-staff. Then came the elections of February 1936, when the

'Popular Front', composed of Socialists and Communists, faked the results and gained power once more. Here is how Alcala Zamora, a Mason and first President of the Republic, later described what happened: "The Popular Front obtained only a few more than 200 seats out of a total of 473 seats. Then two stages of procedure were hurried through in defiance of all legality; the Spanish people were terrorized by street disorders and violence; the mob was incited to seize the ballot papers; and control of the committee charged with verifying the elections was gained, with the result of false returns. Thus the Spanish democratic government is a colossal piece of bluff of the Communist Popular Front."

The Government against which the army revolted was, then, according to the highest authority, neither democratic or legal but was a dictatorship which had usurped power. Most of its members, including its Premier, Manuel Azana, were Masons. Its rule began with a reign of terror, the atrocities of which were summarised in a speech in the Cortes 5 months later by Calvo Sotelo, a leader of the opposition, the Catholic monarchist party, as 3,300 assassinations, 1,511 wounded in street fights, 378 bomb attacks, 331 strikes and 171 churches and 10 newspaper offices burned down. For this exposure and condemnation of the illegal 'government', Calvo Sotelo was murdered by the police on the orders of the Masonic headquarters in Geneva on July 13. This brought matters to a crisis and precipitated the revolt of the army 5 days later. There was an even graver reason, however, for the army revolt. "It has been stated", wrote 42 of the Spanish Bishops in their Collective Letter of July 1, 1937, declaring their support of General Franco's revolt, "that if the rising had not occurred, the public peace would not have been altered.. The truth is just the contrary; because it is a fact proved by actual documents, that in the scrupulously arranged scheme of the Marxist Revolution, which was being prepared and would have broken out in the whole country, if in a great part it had not been hindered by the civic military movement (under Franco), the extermination of the clergy was ordered, along with those known as members of the Right, with Sovietization of industries and the introduction of Communism."

As early as March 22, 1936 the Paris paper Le Matin had reported that the Marxist Revolution for the Sovietization of Spain was carefully planned to the last detail at a meeting of the Comintern on February 27, 1936. The plans of this revolution -- intended to turn both Spain and Portugal into a Soviet state -- were captured and revealed in official documents later published by the Portuguese Government. But fortunately for all Western Europe, Franco's revolt forestalled this revolution planned by the Masons and Marxists.

In his "Secret History of the Spanish Revolution" Count de Poncins shows how as early as 1934 the Soviet Government at the instigations of the Masons, began preparing the ground for the Communist Revolution by sending their agents and arms to Spain. Then in March 1936 -- 4 months before the army revolt -- a gang of ~~Judeo~~-Judaean-Communist revolutionary experts, led by Bela Kun, who organized the abortive Communist revolution in Hungary in 1919, and Moses Rosenberg, arrived in Barcelona to supervise the revolution. In their Collective Letter the Spanish Bishops stated that by July the Communists had 100,000 shock troops ready, with 150,000 reserves, all well equipped with arms imported from the Soviet Union.

The first lie to be exposed about the revolt of the army on July 18, 1936, is that it was not planned by Franco. It was organized by Generals Sanjurjo (its leader), Mola and Goded. At this time Franco was over 1000 miles away from Spain, having been exiled to the Canary Islands by the Republican regime. He was flown to Spanish Morocco -- in a British plane by the English Catholic writer Douglas Jerrold -- to lead the revolt of the army there. It was only later, when the other leaders of the revolt were killed, that Franco took over command of all the Nationalist forces. He landed in southern Spain from Morocco and advanced to join forces with General Mola in Navarre in the north. Soon thousands of volunteers -- 40,000 in Navarre alone in a fortnight -- flocked to the 'Nationalists' standards, for the movement behind Franco was in fact far more popular than military.

Even more venomous is the lie that Franco was a puppet of the Nazis and that he could not have won the war without their help. In his last-minute bid to defeat the Masonic conspiracy to sovietize Spain, he naturally tried to obtain help somewhere -- for the other generals who led the revolt in Spain began with only 585 soldiers -- and at that time, when even Churchill was praising Hitler, the Nazis had not yet shown their true colours. But the fact is that when Franco first sought assistance from Germany, Hitler refused to help him. "It is illustrative of the power of propaganda to spread misinformation", writes Arthur Loveday in his history of the war in Spain, "that a large part of the Press and the B.B.C. broadcasts made most people believe throughout the war that Franco's army consisted chiefly of foreigners and Moors, whereas English military experts, who visited the fronts, put the proportion of foreigners, including Moors, in his army at the end of 1937 at a maximum of 12 percent." Anyway the truth is that no German troops fought for Franco. The only Germans sent to Spain were airmen and technicians, and according to British army experts sent there to investigate, they never numbered more than 7000, while the Italian forces -- more of a hindrance than a help to Franco, some said -- amounted to 46,000 volunteers. That the help Hitler gave Franco could hardly have affected the course of the war can be judged by the fact that there were 800,000 Spanish troops in Franco's army toward the end of the conflict. Moreover, no Germans or Italians arrived in Spain till nearly a year after the war began -- by which time Franco's own forces had already conquered half the country -- although the international Brigades of Russian, French, British, American, Belgian and Czech Communists, over 100,000 strong, were fighting with the Reds in Madrid as early as November 1936, when Franco's army reached the outskirts of the capital. Indeed only for the International Brigades Franco would have occupied Madrid and won the war much earlier.

Franco also received some military equipment from Germany and Italy, but most of his supplies were captured from the enemy, either on land or at sea, where nearly 100 ships loaded with material for the Reds were intercepted.

It is well to remember too that the Masons who spread the lie that Franco was a puppet of the Nazis concealed the fact that thousands of Portuguese and Irish volunteers -- far more than there were Germans -- also fought for Franco. Yet no attempt was made to portray Franco as a puppet of the Portuguese or Irish Governments! And if Franco was "installed by the Nazis", as one English paper even recently put out, one wonders how he managed to keep Spain out of the World War or even prevent the Nazis from marching through his country to Gibraltar. Anyway the slander that he was a tool of Hitler, merely because he got some help from Germany in 1937, shrinks to its proper dimensions in the light of a statement by Negrin, the Mason who was the last head of Spain's Red Government, in the New York Times of May 2, 1939, in which he admitted that "the Loyalist Government had bought munitions from Russia and other countries as well, even Germany." Franco was indeed, forced to protest to the Nazis against the sale of German arms to the Reds. The fact that the Nazis supplied arms to both sides seems to confirm the belief that they intervened in Spain mainly to test their war material.

The reasons why the Spanish conflict can scarcely be called a civil war are that the International Brigades, organized and led by Tito, Nenni and other leading Communists in Europe today, were the main fighting force of the Reds, and that the Red Government was dominated by Jewish agents from Moscow -- the Catholic Herald of November 26, 1937, reported that it was known in Madrid as the "Committee of Wandering Jews". Moses Rosenberg, Moscow's ambassador to Red Spain, presided at all meetings of the Republican Government, whose armies were commanded by Soviet generals. For instance, according to Cardinal Coma's Pastoral Letter of Nov. 23, 1936 -- General Kleber, the Jewish terrorist who murdered the Russian Royal Family in 1918, commanded "the most important unit of the Communist forces" in Spain. Hilaire Belloc the greatest modern Catholic historian, who visited Spain at this time stated: "I found the effects of the (Masonic and Red) propaganda everywhere formidable and in many places supreme. The presence of Moses Rosenberg, the Russian Jew, as chief organizer of the Reds, I found had not been heard of in New York and none of the main newspapers would mention it." Franco made it quite clear that the struggle he won was not a civil war when he stated on Feb. 27, 1939: "Our victory has not been over our brothers, but over international forces, over Communism, over Freemasonry." Hence in Spain the struggle is rightly called the War of Liberation.

These Judaeo-Masonic agents maintained a reign of terror in Spain till their final defeat there in 1939. In their persecution of the Church, one of the worst in history, 13 Bishops, 5,225 secular priests, 2,669 religious priests and brothers and 112 nuns were martyred. Sir Arthur Bryant, the English historian, gives some dreadful details of the Red terror in "The Communist Atrocities in Spain". He states that during one year "350,000 men, women and children, living helplessly in that corner of Spain subject to the rule of the Reds were butchered in cold blood under conditions of indescribable horror." The destruction of churches, not in the course of fighting, but by the terrorists, was enormous -- of 450 churches in Madrid, only 10 were left standing after the liberation by Franco. The Osservatore Romano of December 29, 1938 said that 25, 879 churches and monasteries in the 37 dioceses that had been under Red rule were profaned and nearly 17,000 of them completely destroyed. During the 3 years of the war over a million Spaniards were killed on the battlefield and by the terrorists, more than the total British military and civilian casualties of the two world wars.

Not content with having caused so much death and destruction, however, the terrorists also stole the gold reserves of the Bank of Spain. In his history, "Spain", Salvador de Madariaga, who was ambassador of the Red Government in Washington and Paris, gives the full details of this, the greatest robbery in history. The Masons and Reds bought war material in France, Britain, America, Germany and elsewhere with some of this gold, but most of the bullion, 7,800 cases weighing 585 tons, was shipped to Odessa in Russia on October 25, 1936.

Yet the Judaeo-Masonic war-criminals responsible for all this, and who escaped abroad after their defeat in Spain, had the effrontery to set themselves up in Mexico as the "Republican Government of Spain in Exile" 10 years later, when they thought the victorious Allies of World War 2 would succeed in their campaign to restore Masonry and Marxism to power in Spain.

But why, one may ask, is it necessary to rake up the past? The answer is that for sheer lying and deceit the Judaeo-Masonic propaganda campaign against Catholic Spain has broken all records, and as the Spanish Foreign Minister put it some time ago, "the accumulation of false and prejudiced news about Spain, contradicting itself a thousand times, is enough to worry any man who loves truth and justice."

The Spanish victory should be honored, for Franco saved all Western Europe -- from the terrible fate that has since befallen Eastern Europe.

The Spanish Tragedy

By Inquire Within

(From THE PATRIOT, May 10, 1945.)

Here again there is to be found an echo of the Protocols of the Elders of Zion. As He. de Vries de Heetelingen writes: -- "We have shown that all efforts made to prove the non-authenticity of the Protocols have pitifully collapsed before realities...Every attentive reader is struck by the way certain projects have already been realised in our day. That cannot have been chance, but quite simply proves that a nucleus of initiates know exactly what they wish to happen."

Writing of Spanish Masonry in his book, "Les Societes Secretes et la Societe," Deschamps says: -- "The revolutions which since 1812 have succeeded each other in this country have been caused for the most part by the rivalries of the different Masonic factions, which always unite in order to fight Christian social order."

In 1933 the universal A.M.I. announced that the Grand Lodge of Spain, the Grand Orient of Spain and the grand Orient Lusitanian had united as obedience-members of the Association Maconnique Internationale (A.M.I.). Thus Nationalism became Internationalism, and it is clear that the Spanish Revolution and Republic of 1931 was a manifestation of Judaeo-Masonry.

In a Spanish Masonic document of June 1931, there is the following: -- "The Republic is our patrimony...It can be called the perfect image modelled by the gentle hands of our doctrines and principles. It will be impossible to realise another example of a political revolution more perfectly Masonic than the Spanish Revolution..."

In "Spanish Arena" by William Foss and Cecil Gerahty, with a foreword of approval by the Duke of Alba and Berwick, 1938, it is explained: -- "The Monarchy had been destroyed to give way to the Republic. It was now time for the dissolution of the Republic and the establishment of the Soviet...To grasp the Spanish war in full perspective the salient features of Franco's personal character must be clearly appreciated. In the first place, he was in no sense a 'Fascist' leader. At the outside, when the present struggle broke out, there were not more than 8,000 Falangistes in Spain, and even that party was not Fascist in the sense usually attributed to that word in the voluminous Left Press of England...such members as 'the Phalanx' boasted were but a few people driven to organise resistance against a war already being waged on them by the extremists." The authors point out: "We have shown that Spain was the victim of a vast Communist plot, inspired and controlled by Continental Freemasons, largely Jewish and international agitators, working with certain Spaniards as their tools and assistants, to establish a world domination for the Comintern, which at present is identified with Stalin and Russia. Those who have been able closely to follow the facts of this war (the Spanish) have often despaired at the difficulty of obtaining publicity for them and have marvelled at the impertinence of the methods, the steady suppressio veri, the barefaced falsehood which has been a constant feature of the daily news..."

In support of these statements, the authors quote the words of Pius XI, words which might indeed apply to present-day world conditions: "There is another explanation for the rapid diffusion of the Communistic ideas now penetrating into every nation, great and small, advanced and backward, so that no corner of the earth is free from them. This explanation is to be found in a propaganda so truly diabolical that the world has perhaps never witnessed its like before. It is directed from one common centre. It is shrewdly adapted to the varying conditions of diverse peoples. It has at its disposal great financial resources, innumerable organisations, international congresses and countless trained workers. It makes use of newspapers and pamphlets, of cinemas, theatres and wireless, of schools and even universities. Little by little it penetrates into all classes of the people, even the more influential, who perhaps have not noticed the poison which increasingly pervades their mind and hearts...A third powerful factor in the diffusion of Communism is the conspiracy of silence on the part of a large section of the non-Catholic Press of the world...This silence is due in part to short-sighted political policy, and is favored by various occult forces, which for a long time have been working for the overthrow of the Christian social order."

To break the occult power of the undermining and poisonous forces, Franco issued a Law Suppressing Masonry and Communism, which was given in full in THE PATRIOT of 28 March, 1940. Here are a few points from the preamble: -- of Spain had had such a pernicious influence thereon and so frequently frustrated healthy popular reactions and the heroism of our armies as the secret societies of all kinds, and the international forces of a clandestine nature. Amongst the former, the leading place is occupied by Masonry, and amongst those which, although not secret societies proper, are associated with Masonry and adopt its methods on the verge of social life, are many organisations, the majority of which are subversive, assimilated to and unified by Communism...

"Without claiming to establish the definitive and final rule in this matter, it has now become indispensable to determine the juridical scope and the penalties merited by those who still uphold Masonry and Communism and other secret societies and organisations contrary to social order. It will serve to set a firmer limit to the activities of the secret foreign forces in our country and initiate the social condemnation of organisations which are highly pernicious to the unity, greatness and liberty of Spain..."

In the Operative Part of the Law there were the following two articles: --

"Article 2. - Having been dissolved, the said organisations shall be prohibited and be outlawed, their properties are declared to have been confiscated and placed at the disposal of the jurisdiction of political responsibilities/.

"Article 3. - Any propaganda exalting the principles or alleged benefits of Masonry or Communism or which may disseminate ideas against religion, the Fatherland and its basic institutions, and against social harmony shall be punished by the suppression of the periodicals or bodies responsible therefor, and the seizure of their properties and punishment by penal servitude of the principal or principals guilty thereof, and the imprisonment of those co-operating therein...

"Thus enacted by the present law, given in Madrid on 1 March, 1940. -- FRANCISCO FRANCO."

This is the truth about Spain and the explanation of the present world-wide hostility to the existing Government.

REPORT FROM THE READERS

FROM LOS ANGELES

As a subscriber to Col. Jack Mohr's newsletter as well as an admirer of his, I was saddened and somewhat shocked at his pamphlet "THE HITLER CULT", reprinted in the April CT. I feel I must reply to the erroneous and ridiculous statements made therein. Let me preface this by saying that I, like Col. Mohr, am a Christian Identity adherent, though unlike him, I see many positive aspects in National Socialism (as do most Identity adherents).

Col. Mohr is a latecomer to Identity. Ironically, he came to believe in its tenets through a "Nazi" magazine, LIBERTY BELL, which ran articles by Pastors Emry and Comparet a decade ago. The July 1976 LIBERTY BELL ran a full page letter from Col. Mohr expressing his shock at the magazines attack on the Birch Society (to which Mohr then belonged) as well as its "anti-Semitism". In the letter, Col. Mohr asseverated that Christ was a Jew, and that the Jew is "God's clock of history". But apparently the magazine articles made Mohr reassess his position and do some studying, because four years after his letter appeared, I was pleasantly surprised to pick up an issue of THE TORCH and see a no-holds-barred attack on the Jews and defense of Identity by none other than Col. Gordon "Jack" Mohr. It was clear that he had the intellectual honesty to search for the truth and to acknowledge it when he found it. But it is unfortunately apparent from this Hitler pamphlet that he is still lacking in knowledge in the area of historical revisionism.

Before commenting on the historical errors, let me say this about Ben Klassen. Like Col. Mohr, Klassen is an ex-Bircher who quit the JBS in disgust at its Judeophilia. He wrote a pamphlet called FIFTY PHONY ARGUMENTS (printed in the May 1976 LIBERTY BELL) which was an intelligent and concise rebuttal to philo-Semitic "Kosher Conservatives" and their arguments. And the tone of the pamphlet was clearly pro-Christian. Subsequently, for reasons unknown, Mr. Klassen developed an antipathy to Christianity and founded something called "Church of the Creator", a misleading title as Mr. Klassen is quite frankly an atheist. He now titles himself "Pontifex Maximus", so one must assume a certain amount of egotism went into his decision to form a new "church". But all this is neither here nor there, because to impute to Adolph Hitler the views of Ben Klassen or the opinions of Mr. James Larrat Battersby (who wrote the HOLY BOOK OF ADOLPH HITLER seven years after the wars end) is tantamount to imputing to Martin Luther the positions of the 20th century Lutheran Church (if you recall, Luther expressly forbade his followers from naming the Reformed Church after himself, but after his death they obviously disregarded his wishes).

The views expressed in Mr. Battersby's book (which is actually NOT anti-Christian) are similar to those of Houston Stewart Chamberlain and Alfred Rosenberg, among others. These valiant fighters for the White Race were quite rightly disillusioned by "churchianity" and sought in one form or another to remove its deadly Judaic poison, a poison that has only grown more virulent with the passage of time. Because these Aryan thinkers did not possess the Identity "key" to Christianity, they succumbed to the all too human temptation to throw the baby out with the bathwater, or as Scripture says "Straight is the Gate and narrow is the Way, and few are they that go in". But the proper way to view well-meaning Aryan patriots such as these is to recall the parable that Christ told to His disciples concerning the man with two sons who told them both to go and labor in his vineyard. One son promised that he would, but failed to do so, and the other son flatly refused, however he subsequently did go and labor in the vineyard in spite of his refusal. By this parable, the Master meant that His work would be done even (and sometimes especially) by those who did not know Him and believed they had rejected Him, while the supposedly godly were not doing His work on earth. In this light must these men be judged!

As for the attitude of Adolph Hitler himself towards Christianity and how it fared in the Third Reich, I am enclosing a short but succinct article by Rev. Oren Fenton Potito from the August 1981 issue of CHRISTIAN VANGUARD. (Included in this issue after this letter --Editor.) To this cogent article I would only add that Hitler would have been appalled at the very suggestion that he be deified (as Matt Koehl of the NSWPP is now attempting to do). On one occasion, as he viewed a pagan-type "fire dance" put on for him by Himmler, he shook his head, turned to an aide, and said "This will never replace 'Silent Night' ". And this remained his attitude to the day of his death. But let there be no doubt that he was just as disgusted with "churchianity" as White patriots are today, and he gave his cabinet members free rein to pursue their own variations of religious belief.

I trust that when Col. Mohr refers to "neo-Nazis" posing as Christian patriots, he is not referring to the gallant Pastor

Richard Butler and his Aryan Nations Group. Col. Mohr has attended several of their yearly gatherings and has praised Pastor Butler in print in his newsletter. And if he is criticizing the members of THE ORDER for being "anti-Christian", he could not be more off base (see the article by The Order's Chaplain, Randall Duey, in issue no. 50 of ARYAN NATIONS magazine). These Christian Warriors are the Vanguard of Tomorrow! They fight as the 300 at Thermopylae fought, as Charles Martel fought at Tours, and as Roland fought in the pass at Roncesvalles. Some among them may be criticized for undue haste, but woe to those who attack their motives! They are fighting for our Race and our God and their ranks are ever growing!

(Allow me at this point to digress from Col. Mohr's article and remark on the other Hitler article in April's CT by Emily Stoddard, who wrote under the pseudonym "Inquire Within", specifically on three points, viz: She refers to the German Masonic Lodges in Hitler's time. What she didn't mention was that one of Hitler's first acts as Chancellor was to close down these Lodges in Germany, as well as in Austria when the Anschluss was affected. [For more on Hitler and the Occult, see Conspiracy Notes Section in CT #12 --Editor] And one of those who did the most to expose Freemasonry was Gen. Erich Ludendorff, through his book "Destruction of Freemasonry Through Revelation Of Its Secrets". Even though Ludendorff was disillusioned with mainline Christianity, his book remains an anti-Masonic classic.

As to Miss Stoddard's remarks on the occult meanings of the Swastika, it is vitally important for your Christian readers to remember the law of the Satanic counterfeit. For virtually every Christian practice and symbol, Satan has a counterfeit, and that includes the Cross and the Swastika. In the famous Christian Identity book "TRACING OUR ANCESTORS", writer Frederick Haberman discusses this in the chapter entitled "Early Messianism". Using clear historical and archaeological background, he proves that the Swastika was also an ancient Israelite symbol foretelling the Resurrection, and is as much a true Christian symbol as the Cross.

I am sorry that Miss Stoddard repeats the old Allied propaganda about Hitler's addiction to "magic and astrology". In his book "HITLER WAS MY FRIEND", Hitler's photographer Heinrich Hoffman (who had no Nazi ax to grind since he was not a Party member and indeed something of a Bohemian) demolished stories that Hitler kept an astrologer on his staff. Though a believer in Destiny and possessed at times of an almost uncanny "sixth sense", Hitler was far from the Hollywood caricature the Jews and the "Allies" made him out to be. The above is confirmed in major works on Hitler by Establishment historians David Irving, John Toland, Werner Maser, and Joachim C. Fest).

Getting back to Col. Mohr, he bases much of his breathless "revelations" about Hitler, including the old saw that Hitler was a Jew (!) on a little book by Mr. Kenneth Goff, a one-time Stalinist who saw the error of his ways and defected, and who for the most part produced informative and entertaining booklets on the Communist-Talmudist nexus, but got in over his head when it came to revisionist history. Mr. Goff was a second cousin of Col. Mohr's and he must have felt an obligation to publicize his kinsman's book rather than do some independent research on his own.

One hardly knows where to start! Mohr comes out with the ludicrous claim that when asked to describe the differences between Communism and National Socialism, Hitler supposedly answered "none"! I challenge Col. Mohr and anyone else for that matter to prove that Hitler ever made such a statement to anyone at any time! He gives no sources for this claim and this is simply because he cannot credibly do so. Anyone who has read the James Murphy translation (published by Hurst and Blackett, London) of Hitler's MEIN KAMPF and then forces himself to read the Talmudic, egalitarian gibberish of the mongrel Karl Marx would know that the differences between these works cause the differences between the planets Jupiter and Mercury to pale into insignificance.

And as to how the two systems compared in PRACTICE, need I remind anyone who traveled abroad in the 1930's that Germany was as open a society as the United States? No one who had the intestinal fortitude to visit Soviet Russia and witness the unspeakable misery and drab squalor that is Bolshevism, and who then visited National Socialist Germany would have failed to be thunderstruck at the difference. Every objective observer remarked at the happiness and prosperity of the hospitable German people under the Third Reich. Within eighteen months of being appointed Chancellor, Adolph Hitler virtually wiped out unemployment, a fact conceded even by the most hostile "historian", the Jewish hack writer William L. Shirer. It was an indisputable fact which did not escape the envious notice of the commissars in the Kremlin, the plutocrats of perfidious Albion, and the diseased cripple in the White House, who would only wipe out unemployment by plunging us into a fratricidal bloodbath in Europe.

The myth of Hitler's Jewish grandfather has been thoroughly discredited by documentary evidence which can be found in the works of two anti-Nazi Establishment historians, Bradley F. Smith ("ADOLPH HITLER: HIS FAMILY, CHILDHOOD, AND YOUTH"), and Werner Maser ("HITLER: LEGEND, MYTH, AND REALITY"). Most of the books and "documents" making this charge in the 1930's were the products of Stalinist Jew Willi Muenzenberg's disinformation "factory" in Paris.

Col. Mohr seriously asks the question: Why did Hitler keep the war going even when defeat seemed inevitable? Can it be that Mohr has read neither the works of David Irving, A.J.P. Taylor, or David Hoggan? If he had, he would have known that Hitler did not want war, only the rectification of the horrendous Versailles Treaty and the return of Germany's territories and population stolen by the victorious "Allies" of WWI. And Mohr would have learned that on THREE separate occasions (the first only two days after the start of hostilities) Hitler offered to talk peace, but was rejected by Churchill and Roosevelt. Mohr himself speaks of how Hitler halted his tanks at Dunkirk and allowed the British army to escape instead of annihilating it as he could easily have done. Does this tell Mohr nothing? For the life of me I cannot understand how Mohr can fault Hitler for holding back on the new and terrifying weapons (including the atomic bomb, which Germany invented first) which could have won the war for Germany. A true tyrant would have jumped at the chance to use such weapons, which of course Roosevelt did do, and we now know that Churchill authorized the use of an anthrax bomb to drop on German civilians, a project only prevented by Germany's surrender in 1945. So, Mr. Mohr, just WHO are the madmen and tyrants in this scenario?

Mohr also speaks of "German patriots" executed by Hitler for their plot to murder him in 1944 (an attempt coordinated by Allen Dulles of the OSS in Switzerland and designed to bring on civil war and the collapse of the Eastern Front, with the resultant seizure of Europe by the mongrel hordes of Stalin on one side and the Jewish and Negro troops of the US on the other). Among the conspirators, Mohr mentioned Admiral Canaris. Obviously, Mohr has never read any of the numerous books on the Canaris conspiracy, which fed military secrets to the Allies from the start of the war. Canaris, a Marrano Jew whose real name was Meyerbeer, was unfortunately only found when irreparable damage had been done to the German war effort.

What then, we must ask, motivates a man like Col. Jack Mohr, a well-meaning, patriotic individual, to write such an emotional, sloppily-researched monograph? A major reason, I think, is that like most (though by no means all) veterans of Roosevelt's war, Mohr looks back nostalgically on the good old days when the good guys wore white hats and danced to Tommy Dorsey music, then went out to save the world for democracy, apple pie, and houses with mortgages. These veterans, and those of Korea and Vietnam, desperately want to believe that their service meant something, that they and their buddies didn't bleed, suffer, and die so that a group of malignant maggots could profit financially and politically from their gullibility. These vets bristle with hostility when someone points this out to them and they simply refuse to see the obvious and admit the truth. In Col. Mohr's case, at least he has the intellectual honesty to admit in his article that the Jews "Holocaust" is a hoax. Now let us hope that just as he originally attacked Identity and then came around to supporting it, so will he also have the "guts" to study this matter as thoroughly, with the same result.

Hitler's Churches

By Dr. Oren Fenton Potito

(From the Christian Vanguard, Aug. 1981)

For years, the international communist-jewish conspiracy has misled millions of well meaning Christian people throughout the world into believing that Hitler and the Nazi party have been the enemy of everything decent in general and Christianity in particular. Hitler was supposed to have hated the churches so much, that he closed many and destroyed the rest. THIS IS A JEWISH FABLE! Nothing could be further from the truth. Read on and we will show you what really happened. AND REMEMBER, WE CHALLENGE ANYONE, ANYWHERE TO DISPROVE THE FACTS THAT FOLLOW!

Under the leadership of Adolph Hitler, numerous examples of German church music were broadcast to nationwide audiences or were performed at crowded cathedrals. Innumerable young artists joined in the musical devotions, heralding a new dawn for German culture. The New Germany had been rescued from the rapid decay instituted by Jewish materialism. New forces had reopened the roads of true art. It had once again been shown that truth and beauty are not dissimilar, but correlated.

Spiritual life was by no means limited to the churches. The spirit of Almighty God extended everywhere and at all times. Literature and music have always been spiritual forces in Germany. Both blossomed anew in Germany and were in close harmony with the religious life under Hitler. The Nazi era created a wealth of new Hymns and vigorous, happy songs. The German people recovered from the frightful wrongs and sufferings inflicted upon them after the first Jewish World War. Their grief, sorrow and moral decline had been washed away by renewed Christian courage and strength.

The Jews never wanted you to know, but here is what the Bishop of Gloucester, England wrote to the London Times: "...It is not true that the Christian churches are treated with insult and injustice. I have in the past ten days talked with many German pastors of very different schools of thought, and as far as I can judge they are allequally free to carry on their work and to teach the Christian faith..."

Also, Mrs. A.C. Atherton-Smith, in an article published by the Church of England newspaper, on Feb. 10, 1939, wrote: "If one defines Christianity as being the acceptance of the spiritual meaning of Christ's teaching with a sincere effort to apply it to everyday life, one may discern Christianity as the Leit-Motiv of the Nazi philosophy in Germany...Bear ye one another's burdens and so fulfill the law of Christ...finds practical expression not only in the great Winterhilfe (Winter Relief Work) carried out by millions of voluntary workers but also in workshops and factories where employers and employees learn the value and beauty of work, not only for individual gain, but for the good of the community, and for whom peaceful arbitration has eliminated the necessity of strikes. Hitler said: 'My people are poor in material possessions, but they are rich in the knowledge of spiritual values.' "

Here are the facts! Building activity in the German Protestant Church alone for the year of 1938 ONLY, was as follows: Hitler built 36 new Churches at a cost of 3,394,000 marks. He built 38 new Church Community Halls at a cost of 1,445,500 marks. He built 13 new Cemetary Chapels at a cost of 315,000 marks. He built 32 new rectories at a cost of 1,063,000 marks. He built 27 new miscellaneous Church Buildings at a cost of 684,000 marks. TOTAL NEW BUILDINGS: 146 AT A COST OF 6,901,500 marks. He did the same to 65 Church Community Halls at a cost of 372,000 marks and to 8 Cemetary Chapels at a cost of 38,000 marks.

TOTAL RENOVATION: 450 at a cost of 6,901,500 marks. TOTAL NUMBER OF CHURCH PROJECTS BY ADOLPH HITLER IN THE YEAR OF 1939 ALONE...596 AT A COST OF 12,990,000 MARKS! (compare this with the way our present government is spending our hard earned money. Hitler built Churches and Hospitals for his people, our Government spends our money supporting BUMS and building up communist nations.)

Many, including Ministers and Priests have written asking us to show where Adolph Hitler had stated he (1) Was a Christian. (2) Confessed the Lord Jesus Christ as his Lord and Saviour. (3) Read the Bible. Here is the proof...Hitler said: "My feeling AS A CHRISTIAN point me to MY LORD AND SAVIOUR as fighter. It points me to the man who once in loneliness, surrounded only by few followers, recognized these jews for what they were and summoned men to fight against them and who, God's truth! was greatest not as sufferer but as fighter,

"IN BOUNDLESS LOVE AS A CHRISTIAN and as a man I READ THROUGH THE PASSAGE which tells us how THE LORD at last rose in His might and seized the scourge to drive out of the Temple the brood of vipers and adders." From a speech made by Hitler in Munich on April 12, 1922.

THE SOCIALIST NETWORK. Over the last 50 years or so one of the International Conspiracies' most effective tools in destroying America has been the left-wing labor unions. Airline, railroad, trucking, steel plants, food processing and meat packers, such as at the Hormel plant in Austin, MN., where much violence has occurred, are all examples of a conspiracy to destroy the American economy. In this book, labor unions & world socialist movements are thoroughly examined.
